Privacy Policy

Sign Language Interpreting Specialists, Inc. (SLIS) does not collect information from site visitors to sell to third party interests.

Information is collected only when submitted through a web form. This information is used in relation to the establishment of contractual agreements between SLIS and freelance interpreters. Information may be retained by our company for future use only as such use pertains to continued contractual services between an individual/company and SLIS.

Information submitted by web form is transmitted to SLIS through the use of a third party processor, FormMail.com™. To better understand how the FormMail.com™ Privacy Policy affects your web form submissions, please visit <http://www.formmail.com/policy/privacy/>.

SLIS has no authority over the Privacy Policies and/or Terms of Usage statements belonging to organizations/entities that you may link to from the SLIS website.

Terms of Usage

SLIS is a for-profit private company incorporated in the state of Georgia for the purpose of providing sign language interpreting services for deaf consumers.

Graphics and text on this site are the property of SLIS and cannot be used in part or full for any purpose without written permission.

Use of our web form service is limited solely to freelance interpreters who wish to contract with SLIS. Web form submissions for other solicitations, include spamming and/or phishing, are not allowed.

Efforts have been made to ensure that information submitted by web form will remain confidential, however absolute confidentiality cannot be guaranteed. Freelance interpreters seeking further information about working with SLIS can contact the company by alternate means including mail, email, phone, and fax.

The information contained in our website is believed to be accurate. If you encounter what you feel to be a discrepancy, please contact us at webmaster@slisinc.com.
